

Review of Dispensing GP practices

NHS Grampian has been consulting with the patients of six GP practices who currently get, or who are eligible to get, dispensed medicines from their GP practice. A Review Group will be analysing all the responses to the consultation and will make recommendations to the Board of NHS Grampian.

There is no requirement to support your presentation with a written submission, but if you would like to do so please email your submission to the above email address by Friday 11th November.

Please remember that the focus of the consultation has been the following question:

If dispensing of medicines was not available at your GP practice, would you have a serious difficulty in getting your dispensed medicines from a community pharmacy? If you are speaking on behalf of a group, please consider whether you think that patients who currently get, or are eligible to get, their medicines from these practices will have a serious difficulty in getting their dispensed medicines from a community pharmacy? If your answer is yes, please describe what these difficulties would be and who they would apply to.

Please note that the Review Group's deliberations will continue for some time and no feedback will be provided on the day. Given the volume of information that will be provided the presentations will be recorded to ensure that an accurate record is kept. Full details of the consultation are available on NHS Grampian's website – www.nhsgrampian.org/involvingyou and by clicking on "projects and consultations"
